ENERG-V is a popular herbal supplement for one of the most widely spread complaints in the civilized world, lack of energy or fatigue. It is also considered a type of “spring tonic” which improves stamina and vitality by cleansing the body of metabolic by-products.

Persistent fatigue or lack energy, which is not caused by underlying illness, is usually the result of poor dietary lifestyle and habits, especially the combination of a high-fat and high-refined-carbohydrate diet and emotional stress. Alcohol, caffeine, drugs, tobacco, stresses, and incorrect eating habits are all energy robbers.
